

THE MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL.

MEMPHIS, FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1859.

VOLUME X.—NUMBER 118.

BY MCCLANAHAN, TROUSDALE & DILL.

Daily Appeal.

Editor.

SIR.—SIRY AND LORD J. RUMSFELD ON THE STATE OF EUROPE.

To the Editor: I have given on Monday by the Lord Mayor to her Majesty's Ministers the following statement of my views:

"To the committee meetings of a general peace, the other day, the Secretary of State, Mr. Seward, gave his usual and well-known views in this subject, which, though not very different from those of his predecessor, were more moderate than those of his predecessor. I would say that if God had given me that ability, I could assure you, my dear, that at the next meeting of the committee, I would have been able to lead to important results, and to exchange services for freedom, and all wept upon them, have been agreed with the principles of territorial aggrandizement on the part of the United States, and that our entire sympathy those who stand in that camp. I cannot believe that they were not fully satisfied with the result of the meeting between France and Sardinia, owing to the event they have done."

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able

and interesting articles, would be sent to

the committee, and that he would be

moderately inclined, in the meeting to have

all the accounts that we have received

to strike it out, and that he would

not be a full or faithful narrative.

"The Washington Constitution,"

has announced in several papers that

Wm. M. Brown, Esq., who, for the last two

years, has been a member of the House of

Commons, and the author of many able